

2016 Year In Review

Continuing to Build Upon the Many Successes of the AAOF

President's Report

Rick W. Fuchs, DDS

MSO | South Dakota | Board of Director

Greetings from the American Association of Orthodontists Foundation. It's been a pleasure serving as the Foundation President for the past seven months and I look forward to the rest of my time as President. The past seven months have been an exciting time for the Foundation as we plan for our future as an organization.

We began a strategic planning process this spring that all Board members will be working diligently to implement in the coming months and years. This planning process thus far was highlighted by a meeting that was held in St. Louis this summer where we brought together 28 individuals from all aspects of orthodontics, including current and past Foundation Board members, residents, academicians, industry representatives, and practicing orthodontists, to discuss ways that the AAOF can continue to support and strengthen our specialty. From that meeting came many great ideas, as well as refocusing on the Foundation's mission "to advance the orthodontic specialty by supporting quality education and research that leads to excellence in patient care."

As a board, we now face the challenge of implementing the changes necessary to continue to build upon the many successes the AAOF has had to date. One of these great successes is the fact that we were able to award over $800,830 in funding through our Awards Program this past year, bringing the total funding to $10.8 million throughout the history of the Foundation.

One of these great successes is the fact that we were able to award over $800,830 in funding through our Awards Program this past year, bringing the total funding to $10.8 million throughout the history of the Foundation.

We are extremely proud that we could award so much in funding last year, but much more can be done with increased funds in the AAOF endowment. We have goals of increasing the size of our grants, supporting more residents and residency programs, and expanding research topics. These goals can only be accomplished with increased support from the orthodontic community; increased support from you. I encourage you to take an active role in helping the profession by considering a pledge or donation today. If you have any questions about how this can be done, or how the funds are used, please contact either me or Robert Hazel, the AAOF's Executive Vice President. We look forward to hearing from you.

Long Term Support of the AAO Foundation and Current Interest as a New Board of Director

Ross Crist, DDS, MA, MS

MSO | South Dakota | Board of Director

It is truly a privilege to have been selected as the new MSO Director to the AAO Foundation. Following leaders such as my predecessors, Steve Roehm and Rick Fuchs, will be a daunting task. I believe the future for our profession and for the Foundation, while challenging, is also exciting and will be quite rewarding. The AAO Foundation is currently undertaking its first strategic planning in over a decade. As part of the Strategic Planning sessions we have reviewed the accomplishments of the Foundation to date. That review has been very enlightening and educational to say the least. All of us owe an incredible debt of gratitude to those who not only created the Foundation but who had the vision and the fortitude to guide the Foundation to where it is today. Their work and accomplishments have given me a new level of respect for our fabulous profession, The Specialty of Orthodontics. The positive impact that the Foundation has had to date on faculty, residents, education and research is overwhelming. I salute all those who have worked with the Foundation and those who continue to do so. Those who have shared their time, their talents and their philanthropic financial support for the betterment of our Specialty should be commended.

While the Strategic Planning initiative has provided great historical perspectives it has also given the Board new insights and new perspectives on the ever changing fabric of orthodontics and its member orthodontists. The strategic planning has also presented us with the belief that the challenges we envision are also opportunities that will allow the Foundation to be stronger and better positioned in the future. The AAO Foundation goals are simple: to continue to support faculty, residents, research and education in a manner to assure positive outcomes for the patients we as Specialists have the honor to serve.

During my tenure on the Board, I hope to be able to reach out to as many Faculty members and Residency Programs as possible to gain insights into not only their current needs but also their future needs. We can then share ideas as to how the Foundation can better assist them in meeting those needs. My goals also include reaching out to all who have invested in the future of our specialty through their support of the Foundation and to motivate them to not only continue to raise their level of support but to in turn reach out to those who have yet to support the AAO Foundation. I believe all orthodontists who truly care about the future of our specialty have an obligation to invest in the AAO Foundation.

Transitioning from PARC to the AAOF Board of Directors

Orhan C. Tuncay, DMD

MASO | Pennsylvania | Board of Director

The transition from the Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC) to the AAOF Board of Directors (BOD) is a natural process. Its naturalness is that it makes any communication or collaboration between PARC and the AAOF BOD collegial and seamless. Members of PARC are in the most serious, considerate, and hardest workers' category of AAO and AAOF. Their "on-paper" task is to evaluate the submitted grant applications. Their self-assigned task, however, is to rear the next generation of scholars. Propagation of next generation scholars will affect the future direction of the specialty of orthodontics. The more creative and scientific they are, the better is the future for all involved; from patient to the orthodontist, and all in-between.

Participation from MASO in the 1980s and 90s has been meager. It has changed since then; especially, in the new millennium. I am honored and delighted to be able to give and to make a difference. The two-terms I had served on PARC allowed me to know the stage of science and the characters on that stage from each school. This knowledge will influence my proposals, decisions and voting on the BOD, for the better. Unlike PARC, the BOD has a very difficult task in procuring the funds necessary for the Foundation to continue with its mission. It is difficult because fundraising is never a linear activity, and cannot be done at the desk as time becomes available. Done seriously and committedly, it takes more time than grant reviews.

Arguably, the AAOF Board is the body that facilitates the success and mission of PARC. It is essential; therefore, the two bodies understand and corroborate the actions of each other. To transition from one group to the next, in either direction, ought to be encouraged and practiced regularly. Members of both groups work, hope, and pray for their wisdom and inspiration to guide them so that they can accomplish their sacred task, while displaying their character.

My Gratitude

Saran Huja, DDS

SAO | Kentucky | PARC Vice Chair

Early in my career as an Assistant Professor, I was awarded two teaching fellowships (2002 and 2004), which were critical in helping with my student loan indebtedness to institutions and friends who supported my education from 1993 to 2000. As a foreign national, I (and many other current orthodontic junior faculty) was only able to secure private loans. The AAOF support helped to rapidly pay off a six-figure debt over a short period of three years. I share the amount to allow readers to understand how greatly I value the support of the donors that support the AAOF. While securing the loan and assuming the burden was daunting, an acquaintance in casual conversation once suggested, encouragingly, that I might be surprised how well things could turn out. I often think of those words, and I consider myself extremely lucky in so many ways to have become full-time faculty.

Opportunity to mentor students and their successes:

My translational research attempts to investigate the role of bone remodeling in the jaws as it relates to bone healing surrounding implants and tooth movement. I have been extremely fortunate to have received three Biomedical Research Awards (2006, 2008, 2012), including the B.F. Dewel Memorial Award in 2008. With the research that was conducted using AAOF funds, I was fortunate to mentor multiple MS students both at The Ohio State University (OSU) and University of Kentucky (UK). Two graduate students, Dr. Janice Struckhoff (OSU 2005) and Dr. Christian Francis (UK 2015), received the Thomas Graber Award of Special Merit from the AAO for work that was funded by the AAOF. In addition, two of my trainees received RAA awards; one (Dr. Karthik Subramani, UK 2015) is already in full-time academics and another prepares to enter an academic career (Dr. Sudha Gudhimella, UK 2017).

Impact of AAOF on the academic community and profession:

Investing in people and education/research:

- I have also seen how greatly AAOF awards have benefited so many of my dedicated colleagues and friends, which makes the impact of the AAOF even so much greater to me personally. In my mind, what is very significant is that the AAOF has been very dynamic in understanding and adapting to faculty and professions needs and has consequently come up with positive changes in the awards program. The AAOF has targeted and has had a forceful impact on the development of faculty and research careers. In turn by ensuring the pipeline, the availability and success of teachers and maintaining high academic standards in orthodontic education is still possible. One does not have to look too far at the changing field in dentistry and the influence of market forces, corporatization of education and other real threats that face our educational models. The true influence of the AAOF will be judged only when dental historians look back to trace the progress made by many individuals and leaders who were molded by AAOF support for the collective goal and mission of the AAOF and the orthodontic specialty. It is noteworthy that not all specialty groups in dentistry have foundations that generously support the careers and research of their full and part time faculty and residents.

In my mind, what is very significant is that the AAOF has been very dynamic in understanding and adapting to faculty and professions needs and has consequently come up with positive changes in the awards program.

Outcomes in terms of evidence and science:

- The AAOF has thus generated a large body of knowledge through the support of various investigators. The knowledge generated fuels further discoveries and ideas by funding organizations unrelated to the AAOF such as the NIH and NSF. To put it simply, I think for every dollar the AAOF has invested, it has generated unimaginable and exponential returns and, thus, is securing the future of our specialty. Also, many of the novel ideas are not of direct interest or identified funding priorities of federal funding agencies, and thus, it becomes even more important that the AAOF is able to fund and support these priorities.

The people of the AAOF:

I am amazed by the dedication of all the constituents that support the AAOF – the members of PARC, the AAOF Board, AAOF Staff and all the generous private and corporate conscious donors. I have had the opportunity to meet with many of these groups and I am heartened by their passion and dedication that bodes well for our collective future.

The promise:

The life cycle has come to a full circle. I now have pledged financial support to the AAOF and I hope that I will see a future generation of bright and engaged academicians benefit from the resources of the AAOF. I also continue to volunteer and work closely with the PARC Chair, Dr. Laura Iwasaki and the Board and all stakeholders to implement and continue to expand the vision of the AAOF and the people it serves.

History of Named Awards

In early 1994, the AAO Foundation received a gift from the estate of the late Dr. Earl Shepard, thanks to the efforts of Dr. William Schwartz, an AAO member, and his brother, Mr. Robert Schwartz, members of the family and co-executors of Dr. Shepard's estate. The Foundation Board honored the family's request that there be established in perpetuity, the Willie and Earl Shepard Memorial Fellowship Award. The funds necessary for this include the bequest noted above, a gift received previously from the American Board of Orthodontics and a gift from Dr. Shepard's family so that the total exceeded $125,000. In addition to the Shepard Fellowship, the Board determined that one more Fellowship Award and eight Biomedical Research Awards might also be named by having one or more persons pledging at the Regent level ($25,000) or higher, combine their pledges to create an aggregate of a minimum of $125,000. Drs. Eugene Blair, William DeKock, James Gjerset, T. M. Graber and George Kottemann combined their pledges and named the first Biomedical Research Award, B. F. Dewel Memorial Research Award.

More recently, the Board revised the policy as follows:

To name an award, pledge an aggregate of $250,000 for the Biomedical Research Award (BRA), with a minimum of $25,000 per person and with this $250,000 being all new pledges, whether pledge increases, first-time pledges, or some combination.

In total, the following named awards have been established:

AAOF Craniofacial Growth Legacy Collections Project

With support from the American Association of Orthodontists Foundation (AAOF), 9 of the 12 known collections of longitudinal craniofacial growth records in the United States and Canada have joined to create a website of cephalometric images with an underlying numeric database, accessible through any standard Internet browser. Our purpose is to make representative materials from the participating collections available without cost for viewing and further investigation by clinicians, craniofacial investigators, students of human growth, and interested members of the public.

The contributing collections are from the Case Western Bolton-Brush Growth Study, the University of Toronto Burlington Growth Study, the University of Oklahoma Denver Growth Study, the Wright State University Fels Longitudinal Study, the Forsyth Institute Twin Sample, the Iowa Facial Growth Study, the UOP Mathews Growth Study, the Michigan Growth Study and the Oregon Growth Study.

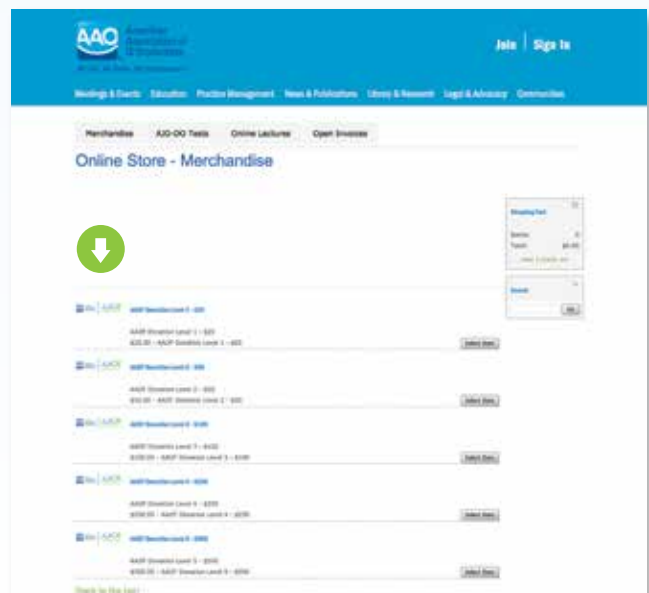

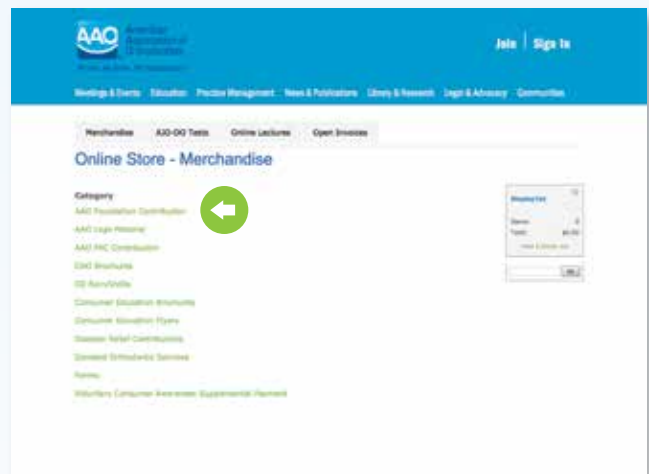

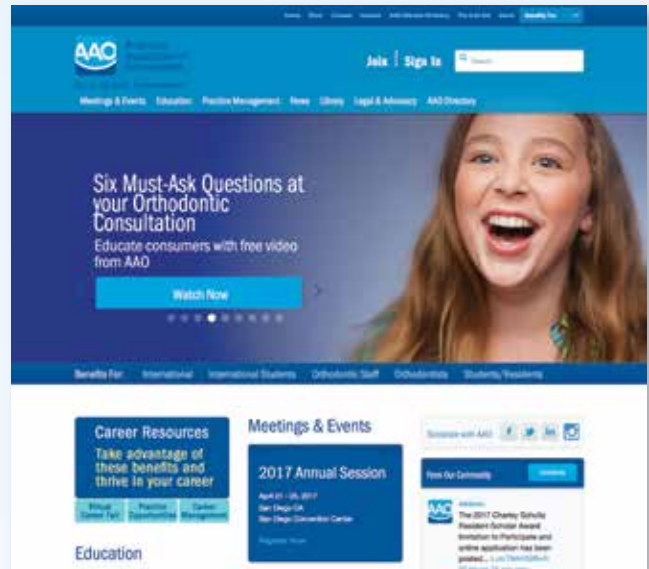

This important collaboration has been made possible through the efforts of the orthodontic community under the leadership of the AAOF Board of Directors. The project they conceived and sponsored has been funded by the members and friends of the American Association of Orthodontists acting through the Legacy 300, a group of orthodontists and friends organized specifically to support this project. The AAOF Legacy Collection is both a link to the past and a vision of the future of the orthodontic specialty. It is a work in progress, changing dynamically with the addition of new material and new search capabilities.

We invite you to explore its current status at www.aaoflegacycollection.org.

AWARD WINNERS

Sumit Yadav, BDS, MDS, PhD

University of Connecticut Health Center

BRA | B.F. Dewel Memorial Research Award

Dr. Yadav is an Assistant Professor in the Division of Orthodontics at University of Connecticut Health Center. He is a board certified orthodontist and currently acts as a research director for the orthodontic residents. He has published over 45 peer reviewed journal papers. Currently, working with musculoskeletal biologist at UCONN Health Center, he is expanding his research arena and has been defining the role of BMP2 in the postnatal growth/ adaptive remodeling of Mandibular Condylar Cartilage.

Synopsis of Research Project

The objective of this research is to provide a cellular, molecular and mechanistic understanding of the condylar cartilage, both during the normal function and degenerative states. Our central hypothesis is that BMP2 signaling is required for mandibular condylar cartilage homeostasis and temporomandibular joint maintenance via regulation of extracellular matrix related molecules. Further, we postulate to understand the cross talk between BMP2 and Ihh signaling pathway.

The aims of this research are:

SA: To determine the effects and mechanism of loss of function of BMP2 on MCC and subchondral bone.

Benefit to Orthodontic Education

The NIDCR/NIH has reported that temporomandibular joint (TMJ) disease is the second most common musculoskeletal disease in the United States. Lack of knowledge of condylar cartilage biology has limited us in translating regenerative therapies to treat joint condition. The research proposed in the application is innovative, as it provides greater understanding of the role of BMP2 signaling in the postnatal homeostasis of the Mandibular Condylar Cartilage. The research proposed in the application is significant and will add to our understanding on how mandibular condylar cartilage homeostasis is regulated by Bone Morphogenetic Protein2 signaling and the interplay between mechanical loading.

Importance of the Foundation

The AAOF fellowship grant will provide me the opportunity to publish preliminary data, which will be essential to launch my career as a funded NIH clinical orthodontist scientist with a focus on basic science questions related to clinical issues in orthodontics.

Tate H. Jackson, DDS, MS

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

OFDFA | Willie and Earl Shepard Fellowship Award

Originally from Nashville, Tennessee, I attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for both my dental and orthodontic training. After completing a NIH-supported training program in clinical and translational research, I completed the Proffitt Teaching Fellowship, also at UNC. Before joining the full-time faculty in Chapel Hill, I practiced in New York City exclusively as a clinical orthodontist. I began my current appointment as an Assistant Professor in June of 2015.

Support from the AAOF will give me the unique opportunity to pursue focused training in strategic leadership and general management without sacrificing the time needed to develop as a teacher, clinician, and researcher.

Specifically, the Orthodontic Faculty Development Fellowship Award will enable me to take a series of executive development courses from UNC's Kenan-Flagler Business School. These open-enrollment on-campus courses focus on topics such as Leadership and Effectiveness, Human Capital Management, Strategy and Innovation, and Communications.

As an Assistant Professor in the first year of my initial appointment, I am fortunate to have the guidance of excellent mentors as well as the opportunity to serve as the Director of the Predoctoral Orthodontics Program, which includes a didactic program and comprehensive orthodontics clinic. The ability to take focused executive-level management courses from a leading School of Business while simultaneously acting as a manager at the clinical, personnel, and academic programmatic levels, will help me develop critical leadership and management skills in a practical setting. I will be able to immediately apply what I learn.

Equally important, because of the flexible nature of these courses, I will be able to continue to pursue scholarly activity, including a research project to recall the patients originally treated in the landmark UNC randomized trial of early Class II treatment. Long-term recall of these patients might yield important information regarding the dental and skeletal stability of early vs. later growth modification treatment, as well as other differences in the psychosocial and functional outcomes of treatment.

In the future, it is my hope that I can give back to the world of Orthodontic Education from which I have gained so much. By developing important management skills early in my career, I hope that I will be better equipped to help institute effective and positive changes in orthodontic education as the world continues to evolve. I am truly grateful for the AAOF's support.

Ejvis Lamani, DMD

University of Alabama at Birmingham

PFA | Martin “Bud” Schulman Postdoctoral Fellowship Award

Dr. Ejvis Lamani is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Orthodontics at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB) School of Dentistry (SOD) and a Fellow in the UAB Global Center for Craniofacial Oral and Dental Disorders (GC-CODED). She completed her dental and graduate work at UAB SOD with funding from the National Institute of Dental and Craniofacial Research (NIDCR) Individual Predoctoral Dental Scientist Fellowship (F30). Afterwards, she attended the University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio where she received a certificate in Orthodontics and Dentofacial Orthopedics. Dr. Lamani’s research interests lie in the discovery and investigation of genetic factors associated with craniofacial and dental anomalies.

A major opportunity for craniofacial research is the use of advanced techniques to identify the molecular mechanisms responsible for a given disease phenotype. The proposed project will investigate two dental disorders of particular interest to orthodontists, short root anomaly (SRA) and external apical root resorption (EARR). SRA is a poorly understood disorder affecting tooth root development with major adverse clinical outcomes for orthodontic treatment. These patients have unfavorable crown to root ratios, increased risk of root resorption and tooth loss. SRA is thought to predispose patients to EARR, a serious complication of orthodontic tooth movement. EARR causes permanent loss of radicular structures in more than one-third of treated individuals. The aim of this proposal is to delineate the primary genetic basis associated with SRA and EARR phenotypes.

The goal of Dr. Lamani’s research is to promote the prevention, enhance diagnosis and develop novel therapies for SRA and EARR. It is anticipated that results from this study will provide the necessary insights into the molecular basis of these disorders to be of direct benefit for the counseling and diagnosis of SRA and EARR patients while revealing treatment strategies for managing patients’ dental needs.

Dr. Lamani’s career plan is to develop into an independent dental scientist by gaining experience in translational research and the writing, design, and implementation of independent research projects for a career in dental academics related to her interest in genetic factors associated with human craniofacial/dental disorders. Through the support of this grant she will be able to acquire sufficient training and preliminary data related to the genotype-phenotype correlation in patients with SRA and EARR to develop an independent patient-oriented research grant to NIDCR. This award will validate Dr. Lamani’s personal scientific philosophy of skillfully matching technological innovations with challenging clinical problems with overall goal of building a translational therapy career in orthodontics.

Snehlata Oberoi, DDS

University of California, San Francisco

CA | American Orthodontics Corporate Center Award

Dr. Snehlata Oberoi is a board certified Director of the Cleft and Craniofacial Orthodontic Program at UCSF and the craniofacial orthodontist on the team. She completed her craniofacial orthodontic fellowship at UCSF in 2004, after receiving her dental and orthodontic training from India in 1994. She completed her certificate in Orthodontics from UCSF in 2014. Dr. Oberoi maintains a robust faculty practice and is an attending physician in the resident clinic. She has published many papers and chapters and serves as reviewer to several journals. She is the PCSO representative to the AAO Council on Orthodontic Health Care, and is the website and social media editor for the CAO.

Project Description

Ideal orthodontic treatment outcome is partly determined by patient compliance. This study is designed to address the problems of patient compliance through the use of a low-power wireless sensor embedded within a Hawley retainer and a mobile application (app) that will work in tandem to objectively collect wear-time data. We have already developed the custom Bluetooth Low Energy wear-time sensor hardware and firmware and successfully embedded it within a removable Hawley appliance. We also have UCSF IRB approval for human subject testing. We will conduct a 30 patient clinical study in which each patient is provided a retainer with embedded sensor and iPod Touch with mobile app. Difference in wear-time patterns will be measured between the different groups in the study. The long-term goal of this approach is to incorporate gamification principles and improve adherence to treatment by rewarding patients with digital app credit or encouraging communication between patient and the orthodontist’s office

Applications to Orthodontic Education

Ideal orthodontic treatment largely depends on patient compliance, and the current standard of tracking progress depends on subjective clinical observation. This study would benefit orthodontic education by providing insight to improving compliance in a way that is applicable to modern society, while providing objective patient wear-time information to patients and providers. In the future, our methods would hopefully be useful for the next generation of orthodontists.

Importance of AAOF

The AAO Foundation is instrumental for this project by supporting research in novel approaches to increase patient compliance in orthodontics. The funding allows for the beginning of an independent research project, especially funding the fabrication of the device and implementing a pilot study as a basis for projects on a larger scale in the future.

Career Goals

AAOF has been an integral part of advancing my academic career at UCSF with the 2007 Robert E. Binder Teaching Fellowship Award and the 2006 Albert P. Westfall Memorial Teaching Fellowship Award and the 2013 Biomedical Research Award. These awards afforded me the opportunity to develop my research interests and acquire skills in teaching, clinical research, and expertise in orthodontic treatment for patients with craniofacial anomalies. My current appointment as Full Professor at UCSF attests to the career benefits from the teaching and research support from the AAOF.

Reginald W. Taylor, DMD, DMSc

Baylor College of Dentistry

CA | TP Orthodontics Corporate Center Award

I am currently Associate Professor and Director of Undergraduate Orthodontics at the Baylor College of Dentistry. I received my B.S. in Chemistry from Xavier University of Louisiana in 1982, and then received my D.M.D. in 1987 from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine (HSDM). In continuing my studies, I received an Orthodontic Certificate and Doctor of Medical Sciences (D.M.Sc.) in Oral Biology in 1992 from the Harvard School of Dental Medicine and the Forsyth Dental Center. After receiving the degree and certificate, I accepted a full-time faculty position at the University of Alabama, School of Dentistry. There, I taught pre and postdoctoral orthodontics until accepting my current position at Baylor in the year 2000. I was Board Certified by the American Board of Orthodontics in 2007, and recertified in 2012. In addition to my teaching, research and administrative responsibilities, I have enjoyed the opportunities to engage in extramural and intramural clinical orthodontic practice.

As a holder of both Board Certification in Orthodontics and a D.M.Sc. in Oral Biology I am in a unique position to see the potential applicability of “bench top” research to clinical practice. Consistent with my clinical education in orthodontics, I am keenly interested in the development, organization and re-organization of the ECM of craniofacial structures, in particular, the periodontal ligament (PDL).

The proposed study, Periodontal Ligament Osteoblast Recruitment in Orthodontic Tooth Movement, will develop an in vivo mouse model that can be used in identifying osteoprogenitor cells that are developing into osteoblasts as a result of different levels force application. We will utilize transgenic mice with reporter genes that will label osteoprogenitor cells. We will develop transgenic mice that have reporter genes that are specific for osteoblast progenitor cells. We will utilize a 3.2 col1a1Cre/Rosa26dTomato mouse in order to identify and localize osteoprogenitor cells that will eventually deposit bone as a part of the remodeling of the pressure side alveolar bone. This information should improve our knowledge of the reparative processes that take place given different levels of forces. This will, eventually, give the clinician insight into both clinical and biological goals of force application.

Orthodontic education will benefit from this award in at least two ways. First of all, the results of the research funded by this award will, hopefully, provide more insight into the cascade of events that begins with the application of force to the tooth, and results in orthodontic tooth movements. Also, successful application of these research methodologies will give us another tool that can be utilized to more fully understand the biology of tooth movement.

The Foundation is very important to this project, because without the funding provided by the Foundation, this investigation would not be possible. In addition to being important for this project, funding from the Foundation will help in my career advancement. This funding will help develop data that will be useful in developing new research questions and more grant applications. This study is also anticipated to generate knowledge that can be disseminated via presentations at research meetings and symposia as well as peer-reviewed publications.

Interested in Submitting a Proposal to the AAOF?

When visiting the 2017 Annual Session in San Diego, plan to attend the AAOF sponsored workshop, “AAOF Award Applications Workshop for Applicants, Mentors and Collaborators.”

Since its inception in 1994, the American Association of Orthodontists Foundation (AAOF) has provided over $10.8 million in research and faculty development funding. This has resulted in the retention and success of numerous faculty with over 75% of awardees remaining in academics 5 years after funding, 31 fundees serving as Department Chairs or Program Directors, many novel discoveries in orthodontics, and the maturation of the AAO Foundation Craniofacial Growth Legacy Collection Project (www.aaoflegacycollection.org). To build on this momentum, the AAOF remains committed to supporting orthodontic faculty in undertaking exceptional research and faculty development activities through high caliber applications to ensure their immediate and long-term success.

The purpose of this presentation is to provide applicants, chairs and mentors with insights on the application and review process that will enhance the chances of success in AAOF funding. The longer-term goal of this endeavor is to help faculty launch and sustain successful academic careers, contribute to literature, and accelerate discovery and improve education in orthodontics.

Learning Objectives

Provide an understanding of:

- ▶ Award categories, requirements and deadlines
- ▶ How to compile and submit a high caliber, innovative and complete application
- ▶ Roles of applicants, collaborators and mentors in compiling a strong application
- ▶ Review process, criteria and funding decisions

As details are being finalized as we go to print with our Year In Review, check the Annual Session Program for the date and time of this seminar, or visit the AAOF display in San Diego.

PARC Members Sarandeep Huja (SAO/KY), Robert Hazel (AAOF Staff), Laura Iwasaki (PARC Vice Chair/MSO/MO) and Sunil Kapila (PARC Chair/GLAO/MI) presented the Grants Workshop at the 2016 Orlando Annual Session.

Awards Program Funding Considerations

Areas of consideration for the 2017 Awards Program funding include the following:

Call for Proposals for Access to Care/Barriers to Care

- ▶ Biomedical Research Award
- ▶ Center Award

New Category 4 Center Award

"Given the interest from several groups in this mechanism of funding, the AAOF is issuing a call for applications to the Category 4 Center Award Planning Grant funding mechanism. Through this mechanism the AAOF aspires to support activities or projects that are designed to advance the specialty of orthodontics via innovative discoveries and dissemination of knowledge. These projects will involve collaboration among orthodontic academicians from different institutions, with or without the participation of orthodontic industry. The purpose of the projects will be the discussion, critique and dissemination of novel discoveries and ideas. Collaborative approaches, rather than a collection of discrete independent applications, will be given priority.

While recognizing the difficulty in preparing a proposal that would address all of these criteria, the AAOF is interested in funding an application for a Category 4 Center Award Planning Grant which includes the following to the greatest extent possible:

1. Collaboration between orthodontic faculty, departments, and where appropriate industry.
2. Organizational efforts (e.g., conferences, seminars, workshops) to share the available information that has the potential to advance the field.
3. Subsequent dissemination of shared information and discoveries accessible to orthodontic scholars and practitioners worldwide in a usable and practical manner.

Experience shows organized conferences are attended by only a select handful of people. Additionally, the impact factor of any journal where proceedings are published does not automatically imply dissemination. Accordingly, the AAOF supports collaboration between interested parties towards the delivery of presentations and discussions of innovations and novel discoveries at conferences, seminars or workshops that are combined with creative means of disseminating the generated information to as broad an audience of stake holders as possible. It is expected that orthodontic scientists, clinicians and possibly publishing establishments shall collaborate with the aid of this award."

Jarabak Award

Annually, the AAOF Board selects the recipient(s) of the Jarabak Award from nominations received from AAO Constituent Societies. Nominations are requested no later than February 1 of the year preceding the year, i.e., nominations for the 2018 Jarabak Award are to be received by the AAOF by February 1, 2017. In years divisible by three (e.g., 2019) the Jarabak Award is given to citizens of countries other than the United States or Canada.

Our AAO Foundation

"I first heard of the AAOF at an orthodontic meeting during my residency at UNC. My Ortho classmates and I all pledged together that day and I thought to myself how this foundation would be an inspiration to me as a future academician. As they say the rest is history...Since then I have been an awardee of an AAOF grant, participated on two committees of the AAOF and mostly encouraged residents to pledge to their future!"

– Sylvia Frazier-Bowers (SAO/NC), Associate Professor of Orthodontics, University of North Carolina, AAOF Award Recipient, Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC) member, Ad Hoc Reviewer and Vanguard Society

"I have had the privilege to be associated with the AAOF for over 20 years. It has been personally heartwarming for me, as a part-time orthodontic educator, to see how our membership has responded by giving back to support orthodontic education and research. The AAOF has truly become a vital part of the future of our specialty."

Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC)

While keeping the ultimate fiduciary responsibility of the Awards Program, the Foundation Board has delegated to the Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC) the responsibility of reviewing the various applications and recommending which are to be funded, as well as making recommendations about any alterations in the Foundation's Awards Program.

PARC is composed of eight voting members and one nonvoting member: Voting members of PARC are selected by the AAOF Board of Directors (BOD) from recommendations originating from the AAO Board of Trustees (BOT) (through both the AAO COE and AAO COSA), PARC, and from the AAOF BOD itself. Individuals recommended by either council and nominated by the AAO BOT need not be members of either council. Typically, PARC members serve a maximum of two three-year terms. The Chair and Vice Chair of PARC are both determined by the AAOF BOD. The nonvoting member of PARC, who is designated the AAOF Board Liaison to PARC, is selected by the AAOF BOD from among Foundation Directors.

Amending the Awards Program:

The AAOF Board of Directors has spent a great deal of time and energy establishing an Awards Program which is in the best interest of the specialty, its members, and the patients served. Even so, the Board welcomes the suggestions of individual AAO members, the AAO Board of Trustees, the AAO House of Delegates, and others regarding its Awards process.

All such suggestions (in writing, please) will be referred to PARC for their consideration and recommendations, and the AAOF Board of Directors, as the body with the ultimate fiduciary responsibility will make the final determination regarding any and all suggestions.

Goal of the Awards Program:

- ▶ AAOF Mission is “to advance the orthodontic specialty by supporting quality education and research that leads to excellence in patient care.”
- ▶ Foundation funding ensures the future viability of the specialty by investing in the next generation of educators and researchers.

Since 1994, the AAOF Awards Program has contributed the following to orthodontic education and research:

$10.8 million in funding, primarily in support of Junior Faculty, including:

- ▶ 210 Fellowship Awards
- ▶ 205 Research Awards
- ▶ Over 1,000 Gifts in Support of orthodontic residencies
- ▶ At the 72 graduate orthodontic residency programs in the U.S. and Canada, 31 were supported early in their academic careers by the AAO Foundation
- ▶ 80% of Junior Faculty supported by the AAOF remain in full-time academics after five years
- ▶ On the AAOF website, there are Final Reports from over 400 peer-reviewed, funded proposals

Support for Junior Faculty has resulted in:

Publications – over 100 articles and abstracts, most of which have been published in journals within orthodontics, but many in journals outside the specialty and the profession.

Lectures – scores of lectures at dental, orthodontic and at other scientific meetings as well.

Professional advancement – to date at the 72 graduate orthodontic residency programs in the US and Canada there are:

- ▶ 31 Department Chairs and/or Program Directors funded while Junior Faculty
- ▶ Numerous tenured, associate and full professor positions
- ▶ Twelve NIH funding recipients

The following is a summary of the AAO Foundation Awards program since the initiation of the Endowment Campaign, A CASE FOR THE FUTURE. The awards program will continue through the Foundation’s Campaign, Continued Commitment to the Specialty®.

“Professional Courtesy/Grateful Patient”

Pledging Offers Many Advantages

Many AAO members are fulfilling their pledges through a “professional courtesy” or “grateful patient” arrangement. In this scenario, persons to whom you offer orthodontic service as a courtesy (e.g., a referring dentist, a family friend, etc.) are invited to demonstrate their appreciation by making a contribution to the AAO Foundation in your name. Orthodontic treatment is provided in the usual manner, but the check is made payable to the AAO Foundation, rather than to you, the orthodontist. You and the other party(ies) will need to discuss the arrangement’s tax advantages so that both you and they understand who might be allowed to take the tax deduction. For more information about how you can employ this approach for supporting the AAOF, please contact the Foundation executive vice president.

How Do You Pledge to the AAOF?

The answer to this question begins with the pledge card. There are three factors to consider when pledging.

Amount:

- ▶ Fellow AAO members have asked you to pledge the equivalent of one orthodontic case. Although some have pledged as much as $25,000 or more, a typical pledge is $5,000.

Timeframe:

- ▶ Although there has been some variation, most members have pledged over a three-year period.

Frequency of Billing

- ▶ The options are annual, semi-annual or quarterly billing. For example, an AAO member decides to pledge $5,000. The member signs a pledge for three years and chooses to be billed quarterly. Accordingly, the member receives an invoice for $416.67 once every three months. Check the Campaign Pledge Chart for other options.

Once you have completed and signed the pledge card, simply mail it to the AAOF. For more information or to obtain pledge cards, contact your constituent or component AAOF campaign chair, or call the AAOF at 800.424.2841, ext. 546.

You Can Fax Your Pledge!

Clip the pledge form on page 65, complete the form, sign it, and fax it to the AAOF at 800-708-1364.

Pledges of $25,000 or more may be redeemed over as many as 10 years.

Happy with Your Smile?

The American Association of Orthodontists Foundation (AAOF) is the philanthropic arm of the American Association of Orthodontists (AAO). The AAO Foundation funds research and education that will provide improved oral healthcare regimens for patients. As a member of the AAO, your orthodontist has been a strong supporter of the foundation. As the recipient of a beautiful smile from your orthodontist, you can demonstrate your gratitude by making a contribution to the AAO Foundation, a 501(c) (3) charitable organization, in honor of your orthodontist.

This is a special way to say “thank you” while directly supporting education and research.

ESTATE PLANNING ESSENTIALS

The Easiest Way to Make an Impact

A Gift in Your Will or Living Trust

If you are Interested in helping the AAO Foundation with our mission, a simple, flexible and versatile way to ensure we can continue our work for years to come is a gift in your will or living trust, known as a charitable bequest. A charitable bequest is one or two sentences in your will or living trust that leave to the American Association of Orthodontists Foundation a specific item, an amount of money, a gift contingent upon certain events or a percentage of your estate.

By including a bequest to the AAO Foundation in your will or living trust, you are ensuring that we can continue our mission for years to come. As little as one sentence of bequest language is all that is needed to complete your gift. Your gift also entitles your estate to an unlimited federal estate tax charitable deduction.

Sample sentence of bequest language:

"I, [name], of [city, state, ZIP], give, devise and bequeath to the American Association of Orthodontists Foundation [written amount or percentage of the estate or description of property] for its unrestricted use and purpose."

HONORARIUM & MEMORIAM

A gift made to the AAOF in memory of, or in honor of, an individual is a dignified way to express your admiration.

For information, please call Cheryl Young at the AAOF at 800.424.2841.

Lifetime membership in the AAOF Vanguard Society is available to those who pledged to the AAOF during their orthodontic residency.

A resident who pledges $5,000 can fulfill the pledge over a five-year period, with the initial statement postponed until five years after graduation. Vanguard Regents are those that became an AAOF Regent ($25,000 pledge) while a resident, and they have an additional five years.

Our AAO Foundation

“I have been supported by the AAOF to conduct the pioneering studies on practice marketing and also the biological nature of tooth movement. Data from the first-ever studies have founded the basis of modern orthodontic marketing along with the development of devices for accelerated tooth movement. Arguably, AAOF is our most significant security for the future of the orthodontic specialty.”

– Orhan Tuncay (MASO/PA) Gerald D. Timmons Professor, Department of Orthodontics, Temple University Kornberg School of Dentistry. AAOF Award Recipient, Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC), Regent and Keystone Society, AAOF Board of Directors

“Support from the AAOF has been a lifeblood for my research and efforts in orthodontic education. I have witnessed how meaningful AAOF support has been for many of my colleagues in academics and former residents who are now in practice. I also see how the AAOF is poised to contribute to research and education in the near future, in new ways, with continued backing of the orthodontic community.”

– Laura Iwasaki (MSO/MO), LA Rogers Chair of Orthodontics & Dentofacial Orthopedics, University of Missouri Kansas City. AAOF Award Recipient, Planning and Awards Review Committee (PARC) Chair and Donor
